The Quatorial Programme

To choose the Quatorial programme is to favour a dynamic approach to perfecting language performance in speaking and writing situations. This programme is practice based using quasi authentic situations. A variety of sessions of different types are designed not only to help develop language accuracy but also to allow the participant to overcome inhibitions and to use the language eloquently in all situations. The overall aim is to turn the participant into an articulate German speaker and presenter.

The course components

Accuracy- The focus of this component is to ensure that students' oral and written German becomes more accurate. Language work, including grammar, structure, vocabulary and pronunciation, is approached in a contextualised and communicative manner. (7,5h)

Comprehension skills - Students work on reading and listening comprehension through a wide variety of texts, both written and oral. This is used as a springboard for communicative interaction in a number of formats, such as roleplay, negotiation, debate and discussion. (7,5h)

Critical analysis - In this workshop the central approach are the analysis and discussion about current affairs. Critical thinking tools are used to analyse and the skills acquired can easily be transferred to different contexts. (5h)

Spoken Assertiveness - The Spoken Assertiveness Workshop prepares students for the reality of having to communicate effectively in an ever changing global environment. (5h)

Writing with accuracy - Learners grow their ability to articulate elaborate ideas in German and sustain their argument in written discussion. (5h)

Accommodation

OISE Heidelberg offers the accommodation in a host family with half board. Students have a single room.

OISE is happy to help students with the hotel reservation if students prefer a private accommodation. For a course without homestay accommodation please deduct 465 € per week from the course price.
